

Medley Music Program

Overview and Examples

About us

The David Z Foundation is a non-profit organization created in memory of musician David Zablidowsky and dedicated to transforming lives through the magic of music. We teach D.A.V.E. as a philosophy to drive our programs: Dream, Achieve, Visualize, Empower. We use songwriting to increase engagement in learning and to amplify the student voice.

Overview

The Medley Music program offers a unique opportunity for students to collaborate internationally with professional music artists to write and produce an original broadcast-quality song with an accompanying music video.

Program Goals

- To globally leverage creativity for deep learning
- To promote and enhance collaborative skills in a learning environment
- To open pathways for communication and expression
- To practice and deepen understanding of project-management skills

Program Specifics

This program embraces inquiry-based learning as a method for engaging participants and creating high-leverage learning experiences. The group will be working closely with teaching artists and other music industry professionals in the process of producing an original song.

The duration of this program can vary, ranging from a one-week intensive to a full school year. Scheduling of sessions is based on each organization's needs as well as teaching artist availability. Topics can range from SEL (Social Emotional Learning) to academic and anything between. At the end of the project period, typically an 8 hour day is needed for filming.

Time to Be Well

Capetown, South Africa

Rounding

New York, United States

Neuroscience Based

- Mnemonics embedded in music help language recall and retention of information
- Long-term memory is engaged by sound
- Spatial-temporal reasoning necessary for learning is improved by music
- Musical training is associated with improving communication skills and language use

Pricing

Though we have costs associated with keeping the program at a high calibre, we strongly believe that music should be accessible to all students. We have the ability to help subsidize the cost on a sliding scale to work within your budget and ensure that your group is able to participate.
